The virtual machines referred to in my October 11 email message to you are now in place. They can be downloaded via the links on:

http://homepage.smc.edu/morgan_david/cs78/install-vmware.htm

They are large, and downloading them is best done on campus at SMC where it will be quite fast (outside, quite slow).

I realize some students do not routinely use their @smc.edu email addresses, where I sent my October 11 message. If you are such a student, please access your @smc.edu mailbox to receive my message. It concerns advance preparations and information about the upcoming class.
